FACES AND NAMES

Everybody makes an impression
Everybody has an attitude
We've all got questions and our own point of view
Everybody has a position
And a status to hold
A face to remember and a name to know

Faces and names
I want to see more than just faces and names
When there's a beautiful heart inside
I want to reach behind the faces and names
Why can't we all love everybody the same
When there's a beautiful heart inside
Don't let me ever see just faces and names

If his face is dirty
If she's kind of shy
If his name is foreign would I pass them by
If I heard he's bad from the grapevine
If she's old and gray
If his ancestors betrayed mine would I turn them away
