

RECKLESS HEART

Words and Music by Dwight Liles and Kim Patton

One person standing in the crowd
Willing to follow but ready to step out
I want to make my life Your own
And take a path I've seldom known
But can I take that chance
Will I find You
Let me find You

Give me a reckless heart
Caution to the wind
Give me the faith it takes to start
Living with a reckless heart

I listen but do I always know
Sometimes I see You behind my blinding fears
I want to know You as You are Still I'm afraid of going far
From what I've always known
Will you be there
Yes, You'll be there

Give me a reckless heart
Caution to the wind
Give me the faith it takes to start
Living with a reckless heart

Caution to the wind
Give me, give me a reckless heart
Give me a reckless heart

Give me the faith it takes to start
Give me a reckless heart
