

RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE

Words and Music by David Martin
©1989 Martin Noyes Publishing

You've been looking for something better
You run up and down this lonesome highway
Sometimes this search seems to take forever
And you need to find a resting place

When the nights are long
And love seems a million miles away
He's waiting patiently

Right where you are
Right where your need begins
When you feel like giving in He's
Right where you are
He's been there all the time
By your side
He'll meet you
Right where you are

Can't fit that last piece of the puzzle
Can't see the forest for the trees
Sometimes the truth is just so simple
A little light might help you see

When the days roll on
And hope seems a million miles away
He's waiting by your side

Sometimes it's just so hard to hold on
But he's strong enough to lift you up