Life can bend and break me
But the Father has a way of keeping me together
through the burdens of the day He tells me
“Come away, it’s time we had some time alone”
And ev’ry time I come away it feels like going home

In His Sanctuary there is glory, there is strength.
In the Presence of the Father there is wisdom, there is peace.
I will come and worship. I will listen, I will speak
Most amazing conversation, most amazing transformation,
As the God of all creation talks to me.

Nothing I won’t show Him,
Nothing I can hide.
I’ve never known a burden that was better kept inside.
How many times I’ve known the joy
And found that sweet release,
And worry turns to worship,
And burdens turn to peace.

In His Sanctuary there is glory, there is strength.
In the Presence of the Father there is wisdom, there is peace.
I will come and worship. I will listen, I will speak
Most amazing conversation, most amazing transformation,
As the God of all creation talks to me.
