NO LOVE LOST

©1990

Jesus, You tell me right here is where the rubber Meets the road I could give it up to You but I can't help this feeling That I'm too far gone Cause time after time I seem to let you down But You say it's not too late to turn around

Even after all the things I've done I can still hear You sayin' I'm Your precious one And even though sometimes I don't know why I realize one day I'll see in Your eyes There's no love lost

Forgive me - is it too much to ask after the pain I've caused Guess it's plain to see cause You gave Your answer Back there on the cross Time after time I seem to let You down Still you say it's not too late to turn around
