

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?

©1994 Edward Grant, Inc.

---

He is led into the court room
With a smile upon his face
He is confident his actions have secured his resting place
God, the judge is seated
The bailiff says "All rise"
The prosecution call it's witness
And his name is Jesus Christ.

Do you know this man?
Did he call your name?
When no one else could see did he call you king?
With nothing to gain did he take a stand?
Did he give you his love?
For all time to come
Do you know this man?

The defendant looks uneasy
As he takes his solemn oath
Now the world can't stand behind him
You see he's suddenly alone
He would not have been convicted
By a jury of his peers
But all heaven knows the answer
To the question that he fears

When we hear the question, what will we say
As we testify on judgment day?