

THE CHOICE

©1995

Tommy led his class in high school
Seemed he had everything
We all could see him going somewhere
'Till he crashed his dreams
His girlfriend's father called him late one night
The news he heard would change his life

What you gonna do
What's it gonna take
For you to see wrong from right
How you gonna know
Where you're gonna go
Runnin' from your life
There's another way
There's another life
First you gotta see His truth
The choice is up to you

Now, Tommy's story's too familiar
Cause we all make mistakes
It's like you're racing down a mountain
And you ain't got no brakes
Before you find yourself where this road ends
It's time to make the choice my friend

In a world full of choices
There's One who understands
In your time of confusion
Look to Jesus
