

WHO'LL PRAY FOR ME

©1995

I've been waiting for someone to notice
That I'm hurting Who will pray for me
It's so lonely in the silence
Can you hear me If I'd ask you
Would you pray for me

Who'll pray for me
Who'll lift me up and set me free
Who'll stand by me
Who'll pray for me

I'm walking yet there's no one standing by me
The changing in this world
Could use some change
So desperate if they find out
They will fear me If they judge me
Who'll pray for me
Who'll face the cross upon their knees
Who'll stand by me
A real friend is the one thing that I'm needing Someone who already understands
Still I'm searching for the answer and forgiveness
If you're out there
Will you pray for me
Someone if you're out there
Would you pray for me
