

I STILL BELIEVE IN FOREVER

Time after time I've come to find
You're all that I need
Day after day
You show the way I'll walk where You lead
Even if every star above should fall from the sky
I will believe
What is unseen
Though my heart questions why

I hear the world say that love can never win
That love has to always have an end (but)

I still believe in forever
I still will trust You with all of my heart
I still believe there's a Heaven above
I still believe in forever
I still will trust You with all of my heart
I still believe in never ending love

Lie after lie
Hope slowly dies
Your heart's been deceived
Love after love
Push comes to shove
And somebody leaves
Even if every grain of sand were washed from the sea
You can survive
The lonely nights If you'll only believe
I know you're feeling like love can never win
That love has to always have an end
